WHO AM I?

I am a senior web developer with 10+ years of experience delivering robust frontend and full-stack solutions. I have experience working full-time and freelancing for large corporations, leading digital agencies, and fast-paced small startups.

My strength lies in bridging the gap between business goals and technical execution:
I speak the language of both stakeholders and engineers, turning product vision into clean, scalable code.

I specialize in modern web stacks (TypeScript, Nuxt, Tailwind, Contentful) and have built everything from design systems to e-commerce platforms. Let's build something that works and makes sense.
